Institutional decision for empowering faculties

Our management and committee members decided to give one-time financial support to the faculties in an academic year for empowering their skills in teaching, learning and research aptitude. Each faculty is expected to attend at least one seminar and present articles in national or international seminars in an academic year.

The objectives of this scheme are follow;

- To encourage all faculties for participating in orientation classes organized by different universities/colleges etc,
- To participate and present research articles in different national-International Seminars, and attended Workshops and small time courses.
- To develop the capability to organize different types of seminars /workshops in our institution
